Security

We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and offline.

- To protect your payment information or data online and in our office:
 - Nickelson Painting does not collect any payment information on this website. We outsource our payment system to PayPal, a web-based payment processor considered to be a secure processor. Refer to www.paypal.com for information about that site's security.
 - We do use a credit-card processor for people wishing to make a payment via our Rochester, Minn., office. As part of our agreement with that processing company, Nickelson Painting, Inc. completes a yearly assessment in order to be PCI DSS compliant. That document states: "All cardholder data functions are outsourced. NO electronic storage, processing or transmission of card holder data takes place, therefore protecting customer information. We are provided an email stating that we have completed the assessment and are PCI DSS compliant (attached to email)."

- To protect your data offline: We do not have access to or store any payment information, such as credit card information. We only store contact information, including billing address and the name of the person or business responsible for paying our bill(s). Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job, such as billing or customer service, are granted access to personally identifiable information. The computers/servers in which we store this information are kept in a secure environment.

Wherever we collect sensitive information, such as contact information, that information is encrypted. You may verify this by seeing the closed-padlock icon at the bottom of your web browser. You may also look for "https" at the beginning of the address on this web page.
